St. James's, April 27, 1771.

Whereas it hath been humbly represented to His Majesty, that on Tuesday the 16th of this Instant April, between the Hours of One and Two of the Clock in the Afternoon, Daniel Clark, of Artillery-Lane near Spital-fields, Pattern-Drawer, being in Company with another Person, was set upon, in a Street called Half-Nicoll-Street, near Shoreditch Church, by two Men, having the Appearance of Weavers, who assaulted and beat the said Daniel Clark, and wounded him in the Face, and afterwards, being joined by other riotous Persons, pursued him into the House of one Mrs. Snee, a Warper, in Cock-Lane, Shoreditch, which House they endeavoured to force open, by throwing large Stones or Brickbats against the Door, and breaking and forcing in the Frames of the Windows, vowing Destruction to the said Daniel Clark, for having given Evidence for the Crown, as they alledged, against some of the Cutters who were convicted at the Old-Baily Sessions last Year; and the said Daniel Clark having, soon afterwards, escaped into a Garden adjoining to the said House, was pursued by the said Persons, and a great Mob, which was by this Time assembled, and was dragged by them through several Streets in Spital-fields and Shoreditch; and after having been most cruelly beaten and wounded, and his Cloaths torn off his Back, was thrown into a Pond, or Pit of Water, in a Field called Hare-Street Field, out of which he was, after some Time, dragged forth, his Hands tied together, and then again thrown into the same Pit, and kept in the Water upwards of two Hours, during which Time he was most barbarously bruised and mangled by Stones and Brickbats thrown at him, and at length most cruelly murdered: His Majesty, for the Discovery and bringing to Justice of the lawless Villains concerned in this most horrid and inhuman Murder, is hereby pleased to offer His most gracious Pardon to any Person or Persons (except those immediately concerned in the said Daniel Clark's Death) who shall discover any one or more of the Persons who pursued the said Daniel Clark into the said Mrs. Snee's House, and endeavoured to force open the same, and afterwards dragged him from the said Garden, through the Publick Streets, to the aforesaid Pit of Water in Hare-Street Field, or who threw any Stones or Brickbats at the said Daniel Clark whilst he was in the said Pit of Water, so as such Person or Persons be apprehended and convicted of the said Murder: And His Majesty is also hereby graciously pleased to offer a Reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS to any Person or Persons (except as aforesaid) who shall discover, and be the Means of apprehending and convicting, any one or more of the inhuman Villains, who were guilty of the said Murder, to be paid by the Right Honorable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury. ROCHFORD.

Note, A principal Actor in this horrid Scene, who first endeavoured to force open the said Mrs. Snee's Door, was a short, stout Man, round faced, wore a cut Wig and a blue Coat; and three of the most active Villains at the Pond are thus described; One in his Shirt, without Coat or Waistcoat on; another, a short Man, in a brown Coat; and a Third, in a green Waistcoat.

St. James's, April 27, 1771.

Whereas it has been humbly represented to the King, that a threatening Letter was received on the 19th Instant, by the Post, by David Wilmot, Esq; one of His Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the County of Middlesex; of which the following is a Copy, viz.

Mr. Wilmot Apl. 17. 1771.

You Scoundrel the Fellow we kill'd on Tuesday swore away the Life of my dearest friend and and if he had had a thousand Lives I would with pleasure have taken them and if you attempt to take his part as you seem to do by your Advertisement you may depend upont that You & Familly shall not exist one Month longer nor your House be free from fire and desolation I shall not swear about it as is the usual Stile of these Letters but if you can believe any thing thats True take my word for this

And whereas on Wednesday the 24th Instant, the Letter, of which the following is a Copy, was received by the Post by the said David Wilmot, Esq;

M^r Wilmot April the 21: 1771

The letter you rec^d from me was a friendly warning to You to desist from any farther Concern in prosecuting some unhappy Persons who had taken that just revenge which the Law would not admit of. If you pretend that the Cruelty of the Act urged You to such a Measure what must You now think of Yourself who are endeavouring to take the Lives of several Persons who never did You any Injury, but who had received in their dearest Friends, & were likely to receive in their own Persons the most fatal Consequences (from a rash Step long since Committed and of which they repented) By that detestable late Object of their revenge who was thirsting after their Blood not thro' any motive of Justice but mearly for Reward. This you know to be a true state of the Case, and yet you under the Cloak of humanity, are pursuing with the greatest Barbarity without having received the least prejudice those Persons whom you cannot but Allow had some essontial Reasons for their proceedings: But know this Busy Villain that tis not the greatest Reward in the Kings gift, that shall either be the means of Detecting or Deterring the writer of these Letters and his Associates in this Affair, from pursuing with insatiable & heart felt Revenge, their Designs against You should any one Person suffer from your busy Concern. & know farther that having such connections at all your haunts, and free Access at most Time to your Person, 'tis not the whole third Regiment of Guards that can protect You from the well concerted Plan for your Destruction. Therefore be wise if You Value your own Preservation and use your utmost endeavours to put an End to rather than promote this Prosecution, as we are now satisfied having put an End to the existence of that Monster in human Shape, the fear of whom kept several famillies in a starving Condition by keeping from them their principal Support thro the Apprehension of being Informed against. But if you dispise this advice and will persist in Your Cruel Design of farther depriving many poor famillies of their immediate Support (whose only Crime was self preservation the first Law of nature) Hear this! That in the Face of the almighty in the most Solemn Manner we do now Vow and Declare, that your Blood shall pay for this Savage temerity was the Danger in the Attempt ever so great, which on the Contrary is far from being so from our trusty Connections & well Dispos'd plan

P S. you may now apply to the King for a larger reward and try to what Purpose it will be — Fate and the ruler of ten thousand

Superscribed,

To David Willmot, Esq;
Bethnall Green Road These

His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Person or Persons concerned in Writing the above threatening Letters, or either of them, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any of them (except the Person or Persons who actually wrote the same) who shall discover his or her Accomplice or Accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof: And, as a further Encouragement, His Majesty is also pleased to promise a Reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS to any Person or Persons making such Discovery as aforesaid, (except as before excepted;) the said Reward to be paid by the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury upon the Conviction of any one or more

St. James's, April 27, 1771.

Whereas it hat been humbly represented to the King, that on Friday the 12th of this present Month of April, at Night, divers Wearing Apparel (in Pair of Breeches of which was contained the S... of Two Guineas and an half, and about Eight or Nine Shillings in Silver) were stolen out of Hepscot Red House, near Morpeth in the County of Northumberland; and also that, at the same Time, Seven Stacks of Corn, and One Stack of Hay, were maliciously set on Fire, and entirely consumed: His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in the said Crimes, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any one or more of the Offenders, (except the Person who actually set the said Stacks on Fire) who shall discover his or her Accomplice or Accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

ROCHFORD.

Whoever apprehends the Offender or Offenders will, on Conviction, receive TWENTY POUNDS of the Right Honourable the Earl of Carlisle, or of Mr. Robert Potts, of Hepscot Red House aforesaid.

G. Lavie, Agent for Lord Carlisle.

N. B. The above Crimes are supposed to have been committed by a Man dressed in a Sailor's Habit, with a rough Cap; and who appears to be between 30 and 40 Years of Age, of a swarthy Complexion, pock-marked, and about Five Feet Five Inches high. Two Women were seen with him the Day before the above Crimes were committed.

Navy-Office, April 24, 1771.

The Principal Officers and Commissioners of His Majesty's Navy give Notice, that all Bills registered on the Course of the Navy for the Months of April, May, and June, 1770, are ordered to be paid in Money; that such Persons as are possessed thereof may bring them to this Office, to be assigned on the Treasurer of the Navy for Payment.

Victualling-Office, April 24, 1771.

The Commissioners for Victualling His Majesty's Navy do hereby give Notice, that there is Money in the Hands of the Treasurer of His Majesty's Navy to pay Interest and Non-Interest Bills registered on the Course of the Victualling in the Months of April, May, and June, 1770, in order that the Persons possessed of the said Bills may bring them to this Office, to be assigned for Payment.

Canal Navigation from Leeds to Liverpoole,
March 19, 1771.

Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of an Order of the Committee of Proprietors of the said Navigation made this Day, all and every the said Proprietors are required to pay into the Hands of James Hollingshead, of Liverpoole aforesaid, Esq; John Hustler, of Bradford in the County of York, Merchant, or Messr. Smith, Wright, and Gray, Bankers, in London, on or before Tuesday the 25th Day of June next, the Sum of 5 l. for every 100 l. of their respective Subscriptions, being the Third Call of 5 l. per Cent. under the Act.

N. B. If Default is made in Payment, a Forfeiture of 5 l. per Cent. will be incurred by virtue of the said Act.

As a large Tract of Ground has been found necessary to be purchased, it is apprehended the Money received upon the last Call will not be sufficient to defray the necessary Expences of the said Canal until the aboveaid Call; it is therefore proposed that such of the Proprietors as chuse to pay such Call on the 20th Day of May next, shall be allowed Interest from the Day of Payment.
